Globally Focused, Locally Rooted

- UK Universities – International Students
- Global Partnerships – Role of Knowledge Diplomacy
- Adam Tickell (Sussex) “From the Ashes of Disaster”
- Creative Solutions – “We must not let austerity cause a retreat to a narrower version of what we are: universities are best when they are deeply embedded in their localities”

#WeAreTogether

#WeAreTogether is a new social media campaign involving students and staff from UK universities, students' unions, pathway providers and organisations across the sector. It highlights the full range of activity the sector is engaged in to combat Covid-19, and bring all those involved in UK higher education in together in a positive online community, to share messages of solidarity, support and gratitude.
